

A circuit diagram showing three LEDs labeled R (Red), G (Green), and B (Blue) connected in parallel to a common ground. Each LED has a resistor in series with its anode. The resistors are labeled with their values: 25 for Red, 26 for Green, and 19 for Blue. The cathodes of all three LEDs are connected to a common ground symbol.

